

Classes & Events

Workshops are held on Wednesdays and Thursdays in April and until May 11. Learn how to create your own outdoor container or succulent arrangement! All workshops are from 6:30-8:00pm. Email joanne@lacostegc.com for more information!

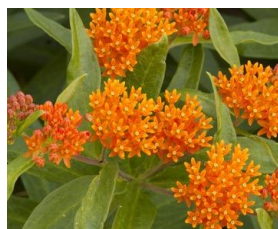

Young Gardeners:

This year's theme is Natural Creativity. Use your imagination and use pieces of nature in your creations. Our next class will be held on May 6, 10:30am-2:30pm. Petal Tea Lights- discover nature's purpose for petals and create a candleholder. This is a free workshop and no registration required.

What's New

A new lot of capi pots have recently come in! We have more of the fiberglass pots we all love and we are excited to introduce the capi Tutch line! These beautiful pots have the look of stone, but are lightweight and very durable. They are perfect for indoor OR outdoor use. Frost and UV resistance makes them great for our cold winters and hot, sunny summers. Added bonus? Capi offers a 10-year warranty with their Tutch line!

More tropical plants will be arriving near the end of April. Spice up your outdoor containers with palms or dracaena for a thriller, or use colourful philodendrons for filler! Lush green tropicals pair beautifully with the sleek look of capi!

Perennial of the Year 2017

Asclepias tuberosa- butterfly weed
Bright orange clusters of flowers on upright stems. Source of nectar for many butterflies and the leaves are a source of food for monarch caterpillars.

Spring Kick-Off

Our annual spring kick-off will be happening on Saturday May 6. We hope to see you there!

Plant Tip of the Month

Summer means big, bountiful vegetable gardens but spring means getting those seeds started. This month is the time to get your tomatoes and peppers started. At the beginning of next month start your leafy vegetables such as lettuce, kale, and spinach.

Don't have a vegetable garden yet? Check out our blog to help you get started:
